PLANT BARNES' SEEDS.

THEY GROW.

RETAIL PRICE LIST
OF
O. J. BARNES.

Prices given in this Price List are subject to change without notice.

I shall, however, adhere as closely as possible to these prices, making no advances unless it is absolutely necessary. If large quantities are desired or a general list of seeds wanted, I shall be pleased to make special prices by mail.

I do not claim to compete in prices with some dealers or jobbers who obtain their stock of seeds from any source regardless of quality, but I do claim to sell the very best seeds that can be produced and that are suitable for the most critical trade. Cheap seeds should be shunned by all dealers who wish to build up a seed trade, and satisfy their customers. The best seeds which are possible to grow are the cheapest in the end.

Bags necessary for safe transportation are charged at cost on wholesale orders.

I Warrant My Seeds:—While crops occasionally fail from natural causes that are beyond the control of the Seedsman or Cultivator, it is certain that good crops cannot be raised from poor seeds. It is only reasonable that the planter should require some guarantee of the purity and freshness of the seeds he purchases, therefore I WARRANT MY SEEDS TO BE PURE AND TRUE TO NAME AND OF STRONG VITALITY—in so for that should any prove otherwise I will refill the order at half price. I WILL NOT IN ANY WAY BE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE CROP.

O. J. BARNES, SEEDSMAN,
MALONE, N. Y.

NOTICE.

A word to my Salesmen.

You are in good company. Daniel Webster paid his second months Tuition at Dartmouth college, by indulging "a house to house canvass," also General Grant, President Hayes, President Garfield and Prince Bismark solicited orders from place to place.

To My Numerous Patrons and Friends:

I desire to express my appreciation for whatever favors you have shown me in the past and to assure you that it will be my earnest aim, as well as the aim of my faithful employees, to merit a liberal share of your future orders; and in this spirit, I take a great deal of pleasure and considerable pride in presenting to you My Retail Price List with descriptions of some of my best varieties for the garden and farm.

This Price List I have prepared with great care, prices being as low as possible, consistent with quality, that can not be excelled.

IMPORTANT.

In the List which follows we aim to include only such varieties that we can recommend to our Patrons as first class in every respect, more satisfactory results are brought about than if we embraced in said list many socalled novelties or new creations which so often cause Disappointment and Loss.

A star is used to mark those varieties which are absolutely the best of their class. Therefore you can make no mistake in ordering those varieties.

Remit by Money Order, Registered Letter or Check, direct to O. J. BARNES, 50 Wellington Street, Malone, N. Y.

Upon our patrons, success depends our own.

FARM SEEDS.

Jap Millet (Panicum Crus Galli), lb. 10c., 100 lbs. $9

I make a specialty of handling the best High Bred Seed Corn in the United States. Some Corn dealers are offering so called seed corn which they claim is just as good as Barnes' at 20 to 25 cents per bushel less, and even in some cases 50 cents. Don't buy it, if you want cheap corn, buy the Elevator or Milling Corn, which is still less in price.

IMPROVED FIELD FLINT VARIETIES.

Improved 8 rowed Yellow, $3.50 bu
Sanford White Flint, $2.25 bu

EXTRA EARLY VARIETIES FOR FODDER.

Early Michigan, an early variety, noted for its early large crop of mature ears, as well as its rich, nutritious quality and leafy habit of growth. Owing to the great demand of this variety I have not been able to fill all my orders for it in the last three years. Hope to have enough for next spring's trade. I would advise the booking of orders early, $2.50 per bu. for extra selected hand-picked quality, selected from crib when being shelled, thoroughly re-screened, removing the smaller tip and larger butt kernels carefully, hand-picked and tested before shipment.

90 Day Dent Corn, the most popular and most profitable early fodder corn ever raised in Northern N. Y. The best is the cheapest. Extra select quality, hand-picked for $2.50 per bu.

Barnes' Improved Mastodon Corn, the best for ensilage, as it is early, leafy and a big grower, therefore you get quality and quantity combined in this wonderful corn. Price $2.50 per bu. for extra select quality, hand-picked and kiln dried and tested before being shipped.

Barnes' Imp. Leaming, bu. $2.25
Barnes' Early Mastodon, bu. $2.25

Average Vitality of Seeds.

	Years		Years

Carrots	4-8	Parsley	3-8
Cauliflower	5-10	Pepper	4-7

Cucumber	6-10	Salsify	2-8

Seeds lose in vitality each year, some varieties much faster than others, and much depends upon the strength of vitality when seeds were harvested and how and where harvested and how and where seeds are kept. Seeds kept to the limit of the above table in most cases would likely have very low or no vitality.

Don't buy until you write us about birds, and see what our birds have done for us and what they will do for you.

All of our birds are A No. 1 stock, as we have no scrubs in our yards, they are all prize winners and are guaranteed to give satisfaction.

My son has charge of this department and makes it his business the year around to turn out first-class stock for our trade, the same as I do in the Seed Business.

Prices for eggs and birds given on application.

I am agent for Buckeye Incubators and Brooders.
